Getting Started

- Requirements – to use Accessible Audible you need to have an Audible account. Make sure to have your login and password available.
- Login – After selecting Accessible Audible from your Home Page, follow the sequence – Login and Info => Sign In => Email or Phone => enter your Audible (Amazon) account email or phone number => Password => enter your Audible (Amazon) account password => Sign In.
- You are now logged in to your Audible account. Select Continue to Audible to start using the app.
